WEBSITES

The Center for Mental Health Services National GAINS Center

<http://gainscenter.samhsa.gov/html/>

The GAINS Center's primary focus is on expanding access to community based services for adults diagnosed with co-occurring mental illness and substance use disorders at all points of contact with the justice system. The Center emphasizes the provision of consultation and technical assistance to help communities achieve integrated systems of mental health and substance abuse services for individuals in contact with the justice system.

SAMHSA's Co-Occurring Disorder Initiative (CODI)

www.coce.samhsa.gov

The Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) has established the Co-Occurring Center for Excellence (COCE) to provide the field with key resources needed to disseminate knowledge and increase adoption of evidence-based practices in the systems and programs that serve people with COD.

National Institute on Drug Abuse

<http://www.nida.nih.gov/>

NIDA's website offers a range of informative materials focused on the intersection of substance use disorders and criminal justice. The resources include:

- ✓ Principles of Drug Abuse Treatment for Criminal Justice Populations: A Research Based Guide
- ✓ Treating Drug Addiction: What Families and Offenders Need to Know
- ✓ Interventions to Promote Successful Re-Entry Among Drug-Abusing Parolees
(<http://www.nida.nih.gov/PDF/ascp/vol5no1/Interventions.pdf>)
- ✓ Recovery-Oriented Care for Drug-Abusing Offenders
(<http://www.nida.nih.gov/PDF/ascp/vol5no1/Recovery.pdf>)

National Registry of Evidence-based Practices and Programs

<http://www.nrepp.samhsa.gov/>

NREPP is a searchable database of interventions for the prevention and treatment of mental and substance use disorders. SAMHSA has developed this resource to help people, agencies, and organizations implement programs and practices in their communities.

Addiction Technology Transfer Center

<http://www.attcnetwork.org/index.asp>

The purpose of the Addiction Technology Transfer Center (ATTC) Network is to develop and strengthen the workforce which provides addictions treatment and recovery services to those entering the treatment system.

Reclaiming Futures

<http://www.reclaimingfutures.org/>

The Reclaiming Futures model helps communities improve the way they work with youth involved in the juvenile justice and substance abuse treatment systems. The model is a tool to help communities coordinate the way the courts, service providers, community groups and individual volunteers work together to help teens in trouble.

Urban Institute

<http://www.urban.org/justice/index.cfm>

Researchers in the Urban Institute's Justice Policy Center produce such research, evaluating programs and analyzing data in an effort to guide federal, state, and local stakeholders in making sound decisions that will increase the safety of communities nationwide. Resources include:

- ✓ Returning Home: Understanding the Challenges of Prisoner Reentry
- ✓ Reforming Juvenile Justice Systems
- ✓ Health and Prisoner Reentry : How Physical, Mental, and Substance Abuse Conditions Shape the Process of Reintegration
